OUR MINES.

The Reno correspondent of the Truckee Republican writes as follows concerning our mining interests:

Peavine, about which the people of Truckee are so familiar, is the same as of old; in fact, the name of a Peavine mine is never heard of here unless it has levied an assessment or "crookedness" is discovered in the management. Some contend that Peavine is a good district and could be worked to advantage if properly managed, while others are of the opinion that there is nothing but refractory ore in the district, and that it can never be made to pay. The Con. Poe has been placed in the hands of different managers, and if the mine is worth anything the stockholders want to know it; if not, they don't propose to pay assessments for glory any longer. The Emma mine is situated between here and Peavine, and is undoubtedly a valuable piece of property. It is owned by an English company, and its superintendent is developing it as fast as possible in order to ascertain its true merits. The sulphur and quicksilver mines, situated near Steamboat Springs, about 11 miles from here, have not been worked this Spring, but they will be thoroughly investigated during the coming Summer, and there is no doubt but that the stockholders will never regret having invested their money in them. Pyramid is the future "Big Bonanza." The ore is said to resemble the Comstock ore so much that it is almost impossible to discriminate between them. It is free milling, and the average cropings assay from $30 to $400 to the ton. The district is a little over a year old; still there is not a piece of land in that section but what has been taken up. The mines are being opened as fast as possible, mills being built, and before the Summer is over it will be a very lively camp. Beside the mines mentioned above, there are in this county— which has the greatest variety of minerals of any county in the State— coal mines, tin-mines, iron, etc., all of which are undeveloped. Such mines cannot always remain idle, and when capitalists do open them up, no longer will Washoe county complain of hard times.

Character and Habits of the Grasshopper.

[From the Fairbank Republican.] We have received a circular from the publishers of the New York Graphic asking us for information as to the character, habits, movements and predilections of the locusts of the West, to be embodied in an illustrated supplement they are about to issue. We much dislike to disappoint any one who appeals to us in a candid spirit for information, and we therefore, cheerfully contribute from our abundance:

1. As to the character of the grasshopper, it is bad. Like the dead-beat that he is, he eats his landlord out of house and home and then skips. He is a thief, poacher, robber, glutton and an unmitigated nuisance.

2. The grasshopper has three habits which it adheres to faithfully. In fact, if anything is the creature of habit it is the grasshopper. The first is to hatch under any circumstances; this is a point of honor and duty that it faithfully observes. The second is to eat and eat continuously. From the rising of the sun until the going down thereof it crams its abdomen with victuals, and its digestion is equal to its appetite. It always eats at the first table, for it clears it so clean that there is no chance for a second. Its third habit is to lay eggs, and all the time not devoted to eating is improved in this recreation. How many eggs a well-developed, healthy grasshopper will lay has never been accurately stated, but the Government has a lightning calculator now at work upon the problem.

3. With respect to its movements we are enabled to state that it moves frequently and takes all its baggage with it except the aforesaid eggs. It moves hastily, "gets up and gets," so to speak, on very short notice and the simple provocation of lack of sustenance. No habit of the grasshopper excites so much interest in the farmer as its movement, and the interest is concentrated in the point whether the 'hopper is moving towards or away from his farm.

4. His depredations: This is a profound mathematical problem, of which the total number of grasshoppers, the amount each will consume on the average per day, their rate of progress and the amount of forage to be found in the counties where they stop, are essential elements in the calculation. We would respectfully refer the Graphic to the Government commission for information upon this branch of its inquiry.

A Heavily Eaten.

[From the Antonio (Texas) Herald.] Not very long ago there arrived at San Antonio a gentleman from a large town on the railroad between here and Galveston. He put up at one of our hotels and displayed a tremendous appetite. At the end of the week he expected to be presented with his bill, but no bill was presented, although he had no luggage at all. Time went on and still no bill. The landlord treated him with lofty courtesy, as did the waiters. One night, however, he did not return to the hotel, and next morning the landlord hired a detective, who hunted and found him. The stranger thought the landlord was going to have him put in jail for swindling or something else, and he felt very much alarmed about it. But no. The landlord was as pleasant as ever. He asked the stranger what he had done that he should desert his hotel that way, inquired whether the waiters had offended him, and finally begged him to return to his hotel once more, promising to furnish him with oysters or anything else that he might wish.

The stranger was astounded. He told the landlord that he couldn't pay his board. The landlord replied that he did not want any board, and finally extorted from the stranger the promise to return to the hotel.

After a few days, the stranger took the landlord aside, thanked him with tears in his eyes, and asked him why he was so anxious for him to eat at that hotel free of charge.

"I'll tell you," was the reply; "I don't care a cent for you personally, but since you have been eating here I have had forty more guests to dinner than I ever had before. They come here for no other purpose than to look at you— you eat so hearty. But the trouble is, I had $2,000 but you would choke to death at dinner table within a specified time. Today is the last day, and I have lost. Git!" And he kicked him nineteen feet ten inches into the street.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The managers of the French Exposition of 1878 have informed our Government that if the United States participates in that exhibition it will be necessary to take immediate steps for representation in the American section.

A terrible accident occurred at Chester, Penn., yesterday morning at the launching of a large iron steamship. The ship started before the workmen were free, and seven were horribly mangled and crushed to death. Several others were seriously wounded.

The Graphic has a sensational dispatch from Washington to the effect that the postponement of the extra session of Congress was due to the discovery of a conspiracy on the part of Congressmen of both parties, headed by David Dudley Field, to introduce a resolution declaring Samuel J. Tilden the honest President elect, and inviting him to take his place in the White House.

Near Marion, Indiana, Monday a brick church was demolished during the service and the crowd within was buried by the walls. A terrible scene ensued. One man was killed and ten or fifteen have been taken out seriously injured.

THE TELEPHONE

It is a Thousand Years Old!

The following hint of the Telephone is found in a book of scraps from English newspapers printed about a hundred years ago:

On a roll of iron, insulated on silk strings, are hung small bells of different sizes for the different notes; there must be two bells which are unisons to each note, one suspended by a wire and the other by silk. A metal ball suspended by silk between each two unison bells serves for a hammer. From the bell which is suspended by silk descends a wire, whose end is fastened by another silk line, and terminates in a ring to receive a small iron lever, which rests on an insulated iron rod. Matters being thus disposed, upon turning the glass ball the bell, suspended by the wire, electrified by the rod or conductor which supports it; and the other bell, suspended by the silk, is electrified by the other wire rod, on which rests the lever. By pressing down a key I raise this lever and cause it to touch another insulated rod, at which instant the hammer moves and strikes the bells so quick that only an undulous sound is produced, imitating, in some manner, the tremendous sound of a great organ pipe. As soon as the lever drops in the electrified rod, the hammer stops; thus each touch answering to a lever, and each lever to its bell, any tune may be played, as on a harpsichord or an organ. This kind of a harpsichord has an advantage in common with the organ, which the common ones have not, of preserving the sound of a note in its full and even force as long as the key is kept down. We have heard of an oracular harpsichord; this is so, in some sort, as well as an acoustic one; and when played on in the dark, the eye is agreeably entertained, as well as the ear by the brilliant sparks which flash out at every touch.

FAMILY JARS.—A bashful young man of Elko was calling on his adored one the other night, and all was going as lovely as his heart could desire, when into the parlor stalked the father of the young lady and thus pronounced the young man's doom: "Young man, look here! get out of my house! My daughter is engaged to an estimable young man, and I don't want you or any other young man to come bulldozing around here any more. You see that door? Get it! The bashful fellow stopped not to interview the angry father, but went at once. He reached the gate and turned to cast one longing, lingering look behind, when his eyes beheld the mother of the girl coming toward the gate, and thus she spoke hope to the young man's soul: "Now, look here, Charlie, you are a nice young man, and you are welcome to call at our house as often as you like. Don't pay any attention to what that old fool says. I'll teach him a lesson in bulldozing that he won't forget, I tell you." And back to the house she went, and soon there arose the sound of tumult and bulldozing. The young man, thinking discretion the better part of valor, will let the old folks settle it among themselves. —Elko Post.

FOLLOWING close upon the heels of Theodore Tilton, comes Henry Ward Beecher as a candidate for financial favors in the lecture field. He will appear at an early date in San Francisco.

The two wings of the San Francisco Democracy are fighting. The war will be over before voting time.

THE ORES OF PYRAMID DISTRICT.

A Reno correspondent of the Virginia Chronicle says that the English mill near this place is about to be started up on a trial of ore from Pyramid District, expresses the fear that it will be unsatisfactory, and that the new camp will get a set-back for years. The Chronicle refers to the matter in the following language, and in the main we agree with it:

The correspondent is right. The prospects of a new mining district should never be made to depend on the result of one working trial. There are so many different processes by which ores can be worked that the folly of accepting one trial as decisive is obvious. Small lots should be worked by various processes, until the one that gives the greatest return for the least expenditure is ascertained. As these trials require considerable practice and an expensive working plant, something which prospectors and miners in a new district rarely possess, it is best to trust some metallurgist of repute with the working trial lots. Let the Benoitists interested in Pyramid ship a few hundred pounds of ore to San Francisco, where it can be tried by several different processes, and they will thus ascertain which is the process best adapted to their ores. Any other course will be apt to result in unsatisfactory, and, as the correspondent states, "in a fizzle," which will be a set-back to the camp for years.

SENATOR JONES' RAILROAD SOLD.

The railroad running from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, in the interest of the latter place, and owned by Senator Jones, has been purchased by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and will hereafter be operated by them. Thus vanishes all of Jones' schemes of being interested in a transcontinental road, in opposition to the Central Pacific. It is the old story "Competition is impracticable where combination is possible."

REGARDING the appointment of an ex-Confederate, asked for by Representative Gibson of Louisiana recently, the President said to Gibson in effect that he had gotten through with the Louisiana Conservatives, having done all for them that he could, consistently, and all that they had any right to ask; and as to the distribution of offices, he must consider the claims of the members of his own party in preference to those of the opposition.

AN AMERICAN ABE IN OFFICE.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Chicago Tribune says: It is stated that Pierpont, Minister to England, has actually petitioned Earl Monroes, the head of the so-called Pierpont family in England, for permission to use the family crest on his carriage, and has availed himself of the Earl's gracious acquiescence.

The ore breasts on the 1400 foot level of the Consolidated Virginia are looking exceedingly favorable.

EASTERN LEDGES.—The header of the Sutor tunnel is still 2,800 feet east of the workings of the Savage mine. At the date of the last measurement the total length of the tunnel was 16,762 feet. The tunnel has, during its progress thus far, cut twelve separate and distinct ledges, yielding assays of from $2 to $20. One of these was 112 feet in width. Not a foot of prospecting has been done on either side of the tunnel. The foregoing is of interest as showing the immense lateral extent of the Comstock deposits. It shows, also, that these veins of minerals are not mere pockets, to be worked out in a short time. It goes very far to prove them to be vast flumes, which are miles in depth and which, in fact, extend to the bottom of the metamorphic formation in which they occur. It all goes to prove what has been often alleged in these columns, that the deposits are practically inexhaustible. —Enterprise.

MARK TWAIN'S DOG TRAP.—One night it was snowing terribly as we walked up South C street, when suddenly we heard our named called. Here was Mark Twain, wrapped in a big overcoat, sitting on an empty dry goods box and covered with snow. "It's working bully," says he in his unearthly drawl. "What's working?" we asked. "My dog trap—oh, no; I guess not!" It seems that a man had opened a new drug store with a night bell at the front. He tied one end of a rope to a piece of tough beef and the other to that bell. The dog made it lively for that druggist, however. —Virginia Chronicle.

MAGGIE CREEK INDIANS.—The Indians are farming quite extensively on Maggie Creek this year. They have put in about 40 acres of barley, wheat and vegetables, and the prospect is very good for a successful harvest. There are about 200 bucks and 50 squaws, and their property consists of 200 horses, 8 yokes of cattle, 3 wagons, 7 cows and 7 plows. This looks like civilizing them and we have no doubt they will do very well unless some sanctimonious ones come along and distribute a few tracts, which would create a rupture at once. —Battle Mountain Messenger.

New York Dog Show.

The great dog show, now open in Gilmore's Garden, New York, attracts considerable attention. A large number of high-bred canine pets are exhibited, and a number have been imported from abroad for exhibition. Five mastiffs are valued at $5,000. They are magnificent animals, fawn-colored, black-muzzled and average in weight 120 pounds. No such lot of these animals has ever been seen in America. A great variety of pet dogs will be shown. One Skye, valued at a fabulous price, is placed in a glass case. A person ignorant of dogs or their uses will interest himself in the deer-hounds bred from Her Majesty Victoria's kennel, which are worth $50,000 each. So with the high-priced mastiffs; one is worth $2,500; so with Rover, the Irish setter, the property of the Rev. J. Cumming Macdonald, who fixed his price at $50,000 in order to avoid a purchase, as his stock is rare. Dog-breeding is just getting out of its infancy in this country, and it is not often, except in the case of imported dogs, that more than $100 are paid for an animal for either sporting or breeding purposes; but in England a fair price for a sporting dog is $500, and the price often runs up to $1,200, even for dogs for sporting purposes alone, as it costs from $100 to $200 to "break" a dog to suit a first-class English sportsman; while instances are not rare in which as $5,000 have been paid for a dog, and in the case of the greyhound Master McGrath, a Waterloo cap winner, Lord Lorgan refused $12,000 for him.

The Sutor tunnel has 2,800 feet to run before reaching the eastern workings of the Savage mine. It is expected that this will be accomplished in ten months.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

The Sea King and History Make His Appearance Off the Scotch Coast.

(From the Glasgow News.)

A most extraordinary event has occurred at Oban, which I give in detail, having been an eye witness to the whole affair. I allude to the stranding and capture of the veritable sea-serpent in front of the Caledonian Hotel, George street, Oban. About four o'clock yesterday an animal or fish, evidently of gigantic size, was seen sporting in the bay near Heather Island. Its appearance evidently perplexed a large number of spectators assembled on the pier, and several telescopes were directed toward it. A careful look satisfied us that it was of the serpent species, it carrying its head fully twenty-five above the water. A number of boats were soon launched and proceeded to the bay, the crews armed with such weapons as could be got handy. Under the directions of Malcolm Nicholson, our boatman, they headed the monster, and some of the boats were within thirty yards of it when it suddenly sprang half length out of the water and made for the open. A random fire from several volunteers with rifles seemed to have no effect upon it. Under Mr. Nicholson's orders the boats now ranged across the entrance of the bay, and by the screams and shouts turned the monster's course, and it headed directly for the least wall of the Great Western Hotel. One boat, containing Mr. Donald Campbell, the Fiscal, had a most narrow escape, the animal actually rubbing against it. Mr. Campbell and his brother jumped overboard, and were picked up unhurt by Mr. John D. Hardie, saddler, in his small yacht, the Flying Scud. The animal seemed thoroughly frightened and as the boats closed in the volunteers were unable to fire more, owing to the or was assembled on the shore. At a little past six the monster took the ground on the beach in front of the Caledonian Hotel, in George street, and his proportions were now fully visible. In his frantic exertions, with his tail sweeping the beach, no one dared approach. The stones were flying in all directions; one seriously injuring a man called Baldy Barrow, and another breaking the window of the Commercial Bank. A party of volunteers now assembled and fired volley after volley into the neck, according to the directions of Dr. Campbell, who did not wish, for scientific reasons, that the configuration of the head should be damaged. As there was a bright moon, this continued till nearly ten o'clock, when Mr. Stephens, of the Commercial Bank, waded in and fixed a strong rope to the animal's head, and by the exertions of some seventy folk it was securely dragged above high water mark. Its exact appearance as it lies on the beach is as follows:—The extreme length is 101 feet and the thickest part is about 25 feet from the head, which is 11 feet in circumference. At this part is fixed a pair of fins, which are four feet long by nearly 7 feet across at the sides. Further back is a long dorsal fin, extending for at least 12 feet or 13 feet, and 5 feet high in front, tapering to 1 foot. The tail is more of a flattened termination to the body than anything else. The eyes are very small in proportion and elongated, and gills of the length of 2½ feet behind. There are no external ears, and as Dr. Campbell did not wish the animal handled till he communicated with some eminent scientific gentlemen we could not ascertain if there were teeth or not. Great excitement is created and the country people are flocking to view it. This morning Mr. Duncan Clerk, writer, took possession of the monster, in the rights of Mr. McFee, of Appin, and Mr. James Nicol, writer, in the name of the Crown.

COURING UNDER DIFFICULTY.—The Enterprise relates the following account of a sharp trick up in the "south end."

In the vicinity of one of the small railway stations in Washoe valley resided, a short time ago, a beautiful young lady, who was greatly admired by the youths of the valley. One of the number was greatly infatuated with the fair maiden, was exceedingly annoyed, owing to the fact that he never could have an opportunity of speaking with the young lady alone. So whatever might he would he always found half a dozen of his hated rivals at the house in advance of himself. At length, growing desperate, he proposed to the young lady in the presence of one of the enemy, and was accepted. Overjoyed at his success, he asked the gentleman to act as second man at the wedding. The other declined the invitation, saying that if he could not be first he did not care to be anything.

The Sheridan-Mack-Ward show

last evening was, if anything, better than the first performance, and we are sure those who were present were delighted. This troupe improves upon acquaintance, and if they ever come to Reno again we hope times will not be so hard, consequently money more plentiful, and a $500 house greet them.

A Popular Place.

Among the most popular places for purchasing supplies of all kinds is the store of G. W. Cunningham, on Commercial Row. His old friends have all stood by him, and many new ones have found their way there. He is fully up to the times in vegetables, fruit, etc.

Fitting Up.

Mr. J. L. Hale has bought out the saloon next door to Norton's butcher shop. He will give it a complete refitting and overhauling, after which he will stock it with the finest brands of liquors and cigars.

Cheap Wood.

Under Sheriff Young yesterday sold a lot of wood to satisfy Rager's $500 fine for contempt of Court. And the best price he could get for it was $4 a cord.

The Rover Case.

Rover is to be tried again for his life on the 11th of June. If the jury disagree again, the chances are no further effort will be made to convict him.

Since we have made it known of putting our Nebraska grasshoppers in Charlie Chase's of play Pedro, Tom Hymers, H. H. Beck, Bill Duck, John Sturgeon, Charlie Varian, Danden, Zook, and other Nevada "grasshoppers" want a hand in the game. Not if we know ourselves though. Our grasshoppers don't tackle such fellows.

The climate of Reno is one of the finest on the coast. The air is clear, elastic and exhilarating, and unsurpassed for general healthfulness. The place is equally removed from the winds and fogs which prevail near the coast in California and the heat and malaria of the valleys west of the Sierras.

In the Justice Court yesterday Wm. Danforth and Lula Howard were given a hearing on the charge of grand larceny in stealing two watch chains from Maggie Price. The Judge discharged Danforth, but held Lula over to await the action of the Grand Jury.

GEO. ALT yesterday commenced to clean up the Auburn Mill. He will have it ready to start up by Monday, by which time twenty tons of Pyramid rock will be here. Wouldn't it be a good thing if we could keep the mill running on Pyramid ore. Guess we can.

The present weather is a reminder that it is not yet time to throw off flannels and winter clothing.

The Tybo Sun has been received.

It's a sprightly little sheet, and under the care of Bill Taylor will always be interesting. Nevada is becoming quite a newspaper State. They are springing up like mushrooms.

TO THE OFFICERS OF RENO.—Yankee Dodge having decided to remain in Reno for a few weeks longer takes this method of calling your attention to the fact. Having for many years been connected with the well known cheap house of I. D. Wilson & Co., No. 75, Bowery street, New York, enables me to sell goods at lower rates than those less favored. My stock consists of almost everything you can think of, in fact a general variety store. New goods will be constantly added. My aim will be to give 25 cents worth of goods for every two-bits received, and any article not as represented the money will be refunded. No two prices, a child can buy as cheap as a grown person. Come in and price goods, no one expected to buy unless they so desire. Paddlers supplied at less than San Francisco prices. Come and see us, corner Virginia and Second street, opposite New Old Fellows Hall.

YANKER DODGE, Proprietor, L. D. ADAMS, Manager.

HOOLE'S PHARMACY.—TO THE APPLICANTS.—We sell pure drugs and medicines, compound prescriptions from the purest and best material in the world, at our usual low rates—fifty per cent less than was ever charged in Reno. Our reputation for fair dealing and moderate charges being now well established, and thanking a discriminating public for their considerate patronage I will offer still further inducements in low prices for toilet articles and all goods usually kept in a first class drug store, and invite especial attention to the small margin at which such articles can be purchased at our store.

A FULL line of crockery and glassware has just been received by J. C. Hagerman, and he says to saloon keepers, if they want the latest style in bar fixtures, they can call on him and get the "very thing." In addition to the above he has also a complete assortment of China dinner and tea sets, glass sets and a complete stock of Rogers Bros. and Reed & Barton's silver-plated ware of the best quality. These goods were bought in Boston at a ruinous low price and will be sold here at corresponding figures. Call and examine.

COLEMAN has hot baths at all hours.
